OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Thursday - 17 January 1974

1. (Secret - GLC) Clark McFadden, of the Senate Armed Services Committee staff who will be handling hearings on the Agency's legislation for Chairman Stennis, spent the day at the Agency receiving briefings from various officials. Following a greeting by the Director he was briefed by the following: Jack Maury on the Agency's relations with the Congress; [REDACTED] on the intelligence community and budget; Jack Iams and Jim [REDACTED] on CIA organization and budget; Bill Nelson on overseas operations; [REDACTED] on Domestic Collection Division; [REDACTED] Foreign Resources Division; and John Warner, [REDACTED] and George Cary on CIA legislation, the Stennis bill, and our disclosure of information package. McFadden was most appreciative of the time and information given him and said he would be back in touch with us after he has done further background reading and research.

2. (Unclassified - PLC) Called Gene Scallan in the Office of the General Counsel, Civil Service Commission, and inquired as to the status of their report commenting on H.R. 7135, which raises the ceiling from $6,500 to $12,000 for damage claims against the Government by civilian employees. Scallan hoped that their report would be submitted to OMB at the earliest as he sees no problem in their supporting the bill. I informed him that State also supports the bill and has sent their draft report to OMB. In response to his request I sent him a copy of State's report to assist him in the preparation of the Civil Service Commission report. I again expressed to Scallan our interest in the legislation and urged him to move on the matter as soon as possible.
